

Our Commitment to Integrity: The "Results-First" Guarantee

At The Styling Project, we believe that the relationship between a stylist, a real estate agent, and a homeowner should be built on one thing: exceptional results.

In our industry, it is common practice for styling firms to offer cash incentives, gift vouchers, or "kickbacks" to agents in exchange for business. We choose a different path.

1. Recommendations Earned, Not Bought

When an agent recommends us to you, they are doing so because they trust our eye for design and our ability to maximise your sale price—not because they are receiving a commission. This ensures you receive an unbiased, professional recommendation focused solely on your property's success.

2. Full Value on the Floor

By refusing to pay referral fees, we ensure that 100% of your investment stays exactly where it belongs: in your home. Every dollar goes toward high-end inventory, bespoke design planning, and the meticulous installation required to make your property stand out in a crowded market.

3. Transparent Partnerships

We value our real estate partners for their expertise and market knowledge. Our partnerships are built on mutual respect and a shared goal of achieving record-breaking sales. We believe that a job well done is the only "reward" necessary to maintain a strong professional bond.

"Our reputation is built on the value we add to your home, not the incentives we pay behind the scenes. We stand by our work, our ethics, and your results."
